

To support metro Atlanta's thriving economy, the MAC Infrastructure Council develops best policies in transportation, water, environment and natural resources, energy, and sustainability. Industry leaders crossing multiple sectors work together to elevate the region's reputation as a world-class leader in infrastructure investment and sustainable business practices. MAC has led the way on numerous policy and research projects which have significantly shaped region.

Working for the Future

MAC Infrastructure Council works with policy makers and community leaders to:

- Establish thought leadership by conducting and delivering relevant research and data showcasing best policies and practices for infrastructure development and investment
- Remain a reliable resource through regular interaction with MAC staff and business leaders
- Advocate at the local, state and federal level for policies and resources needed to strengthen and expand our multi-modal transportation infrastructure
- Ensure an equitable water-sharing agreement with neighboring states, allowing for Georgia to move forward with investing in new water infrastructure
- Remain the business voice for sustainability in metro Atlanta – driving sustainable best practices and enhancing our sustainability reputation
- Ensure the environmental regulatory structure is favorable for industry growth and job creation
- Showcase innovative sustainability leadership by hosting the annual E3 Awards

What's in it for You and Your Company?

- Stay informed on policy issues
- Influence and develop policy positions
- Advocate for specific policies in the business community
- Build your professional network
- Added values through exclusive content and experiences
- Impact your business's ability to grow and attract talent

LEADERSHIP

CHAIR
Dan Hendrix
Chairman & CEO
Interface Inc.

CO-CHAIR
Kevin Yates
President
Siemens

MAC STAFF

Katie Kirkpatrick
Chief Policy Officer
404.586.8544
kkirkpatrick@macoc.com

Dave Williams
VP Infrastructure &
Government Affairs
404.586.1938
dwilliams@macoc.com

Natalie Simpson
Project Manager
404.586.8412
nsimpsonr@macoc.com